GETTING THERE FROM THE MAIN STATION (LESS THAN 5 MINUTES)

When you arrive at Hanover main station, head east towards “Kröpcke / City Center” (watch the signs at the main station). Leave the main station and walk to Schillerstraße (straight ahead, but slightly to the right). Turn right on Rosenstraße. After a few meters, the hotel will be on your left.

GETTING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM AND COMMUNICATION RESEARCH (CA. 35-40 MINUTES)

The Department of Journalism and Communication Research (IJK) is located on the Expo-Plaza at the southern outskirts of Hanover. In order to get there, you will need to take the (uestra) tram number 6 towards “Messe-Ost (Expo-Plaza)” until it reaches its final destination. Get on the tram at “Kröpcke”. To get to Kröpcke, turn right on Rosenstraße, right on Schillerstraße and then left on Große Packhoffstraße. Turn left at the next street (Georgstraße) and go underground (follow sign: U) and follow the signs to tram number 6 towards “Messe-Ost (Expo-Plaza)”. Get off at its final destination. Once you have reached Expo-Plaza: go straight – cross the pedestrian bridge – left at the foot of the bridge – go straight until you reach number 12 on your left (Look for an orange spike coming out of the building – it’s art).

GETTING TO THE LEIBNIZHAUS (CA. 10 MINUTES)

Turn right on Rosenstraße, right on Schillerstraße and then left on Große Packhoffstraße. Go straight (the street changes its name to “Seilwinderstraße” after a few hundred meters). You will reach Marktkirche, a big church in North German brick gothic style. Pass the church on your left. After the church, turn left on Kramerstraße. The Leibnizhaus is located at the end of the street.
